

Jech/Tillman/Whitehorn Case Fails at ABIA

I believe that many decisions have been made by some of our Osage Minerals Council members over the last 4 years based on the optimistic anticipation that “Jech” would be successful at the Interior Board of Indian Appeals. If successful, this would have allowed the lawsuit to start over again from scratch, with the opportunity to go all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary. The lawyers would have loved that. MC2 was asked to fund $50,000 to the suit but, after much discussion, they declined.

The entire suit is available for review at the following URL. Like all lawsuits, it’s a little wordy, but I guess that’s necessary in the legal world. Anyway, all Shareholders should read this and make up their own minds as to whether or not this would have been good, had it been successful.
